

Brew Your Own

By Biopeople

Topic

Whether you are newly educated or seasoned within the Biotech, Medtech or the Pharma Industry you may ask yourself “Should I start my own business?”

At this Biopeople “Brew Your Own” you can meet three founders of exciting and successful Aarhus based startups; Simon Glerup from Draupnir Bio, Martin Roesgaard from STipe Therapeutics and Thomas Holm Pedersen from NMD Pharma. Combined, more than 750 million DDK have been invested into their companies. They will share their startup stories, give insights on creating your own business, and address the question “how can Aarhus create an even better environment for life science/pharma startups?”.

Furthermore, Gunhild Klarskov Kristensen from CMC Value Advisory will give some perspective on going from research to clinical trials and choosing the right CMO for production.

So, if you're a budding entrepreneur, a future consultant within your field or just interested in this topic please join us to network, share best practices and try some of Ølsnedkerens beers.

Programme

- Welcome and introduction
- Mai Louise Agerskov, Adm. direktør INCUBA
- Lone Ryg Olsen, Erhvervsdirektør Aarhus Universitet
- Thomas Holm Pedersen, NMD Pharma
- Gunhild Klarskov Kristensen, CMC Value Advisory
- Networking and beers
- Martin Roesgaard, STipe Therapeutics
- Simon Glerup, Draupnir Bio
- Networking and beers

Registration

The event is free, but registration is mandatory: Please use this registration link

Open Space Lab is:

- Your life science business boost.
- A place for sharing ideas and best practises.
- Networking over a beer with a view.

Date and Time

12th of March 2020

14:00-17:30

Registration

13:30-14:00

Location:

INCUBA Navitas

Pier Venue

Inge Lehmanns Gade 10,
8000 Aarhus C

Organisers:

Denmark's Life Science Cluster

INCUBA